Apaches Sparkle with Spirit of '69

WE HATE TO TELL YOU THIS, but B-O-Y-S spells boys!! Gail Hamlin stares in disbelief—you're kidding!

Many of the events of the 1968-69 school year will be forgotten by the time classes start again next fall. However, some things will never be forgotten by the majority of WHS students. Seniors will remember this year as a year of "lasts." The sophomores will think of it as a year of "firsts"; and for the juniors it will be "the year we put on the prom."

Who can forget going home to change clothes . . . having two foreign exchange students for the first time . . . decorating the halls and having pep sessions . . . going to the A&W after football and basketball games . . . spending the noon hour in room 109 or in the senior lounge . . . paying a quarter to see a basketball game . . . being on independent study . . . Mrs. Steiner on crutches . . . having a bonfire in the middle of February . . . and the last day of school?

IT'S IN THE BAG! Peggy Helm wheels Frank Morris to the incinerator.

Don't tell me your yearbook meeting lasted until 3:00 a.m.! But it did, it did, the yearbook staff insisted to classmates and teachers as they staggered through school the following day. Yes, it has been a sorta different year, and the twenty Sycamore staff members would be the last to disagree.

After being forced to vacate the journalism room, staff meetings were held in the home ec room, and in staff members' homes where food was more plentiful.

Averaging about eighteen hours of work per week, "I Think I'm Going Out of My Head" became a very familiar cry to co-editors Cathy Anglin and Reta Ford, and to sponsor, Mrs. Kay Halley.

Writing copy and cuts, cropping pictures, and the familiar, "where's the pretzels," became a part of every meeting. It is amazing that between losing valuable rolls of film and making frantic trips to the post office that the Sycamore was even published.

But now the year is over, the memories have been recorded and we present to you the 1969 Sycamore.

Sycamore sponsor Mrs. Halley, co-editors Reta Ford and Cathy Anglin, and business manager Ted Grossnickle, work diligently to put the yearbook together.

Victory Adds to Excitement

"I'D WALK A MILE FOR A VICTORY" is the float theme for the sophomore class.

The theme for the junior float is "THAT'S WHAT HAPPINESS IS."

Seniors "KILLS 'EM DEAD" for a second time with another winning float.

As all previous senior classes, the class of '69 felt a twinge of regret remembering that Homecoming 1968 was the last home football game for them as students of WHS. But their spirits lifted when they won first place in the float contest for the second time. "Commercials" was the theme for the floats this year. The seniors chose "Apache Raid Kills 'Em Dead" for their title; the juniors, "That's What Happiness Is"; and the sophomores, "I'd Walk A Mile For A Victory."

During the half-time festivities, Janet Elward was crowned the 1968 Homecoming Queen by last year's queen, Jane Schlemmer. Janet's escort was Phil Kafoure. Don Baer was selected to be Mr. Alumni for the next year. Pictures of him and his classmates were featured at the Alumni Booth which also had hot cups of coffee. "The Illusions" played at an after-game dance sponsored by G.A.A.

Harvest Ball Turns to Indian Summer

The Harvest Ball returned to WHS this year under the theme of "Indian Summer." This idea was carried out by gourds, pumpkins, and bales of hay arranged in front of a mural. Silhouettes of trees and corn shocks decorated the windows of the cafeteria for the November sixteenth dance. When the false ceiling fell down on Friday night, the members of Tri-Hi-Y were certain that it was a bad omen. But the dance proved to be a success as almost one hundred couples danced to the music of "The Blue Notes" the next evening.

Wabash High School was privileged to have two foreign exchange students this year.

Carmen Louisa Badilla-Sanz, known to her classmates as Carmelu, came to Wabash from Santiago, Chile, on the AFS program. She stayed with the Jack Hosler family. Her favorite subjects were trigonometry, world civ, and study hall; and she listed milkshakes and french fries as her favorite American foods. Pep sessions and ball games were two new experiences that Carmelu enjoyed. Although the first pep session left her confused, she became a loyal Apache fan before the year was over.

The second foreigner to come to WHS was Beatriz Helena Limongi Coelho from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. She came in January on the Youth For Understanding program and lived with the Phil Cramers'. Bea liked all of her classes and enjoyed the basketball games. She was delighted with the cold weather which they never have in Rio. Three of the many things to which Bea had to adjust were changing classes, eating food that had more sugar in it, and seeing stop signs.

WHS extends its wishes for "good luck in the future" to these girls who brought warmth and friendship from their South American countries.

JOURNALISM INSTITUTE: Reta Ford, Debbie Coburn, and Cathy Anglin.

Many students attended summer institutes before their senior year. Janet Elward was fortunate enough to be chosen to attend the Student Council Workshop at I.U., while Bob Schloot attended Boys State. Janet represented St. Joseph's Academy of Tipton. Bob represented Wabash High School.

Leonard Gardenour took part in the many activities of the I.U. Social Studies Institute, and Eva Lively was chosen to spend eight weeks of study in Germany. The students returned to share their many experiences with the Student Body.

Convos Add Variety to Days at WHS

JILL YOUNCE AND BRENDA WEBB enjoy Sgt. Pike's humorous presentation on safety.

A variety of convocations provided a change in the daily routine of WHS students and faculty. Mr. Fred Lowery, "king of the whistlers," presented a medley of tunes to the student body. Hints on safe driving were given by Sgt. Carl Pike in one of the most humorous convos of the year, a safety-magic show. The Hanover College Choir also entertained WHS. Rudy and Corinne Saxon presented a program on ESP which was greeted by general disbelief from the audience. Talented Apaches also entertained the student body. Speech Club and the Belles and Beaux presented a Christmas convo. Members of the Speech Club put on another convo, a one-act comedy play, "The Flattering Word."

The annual awards convo was held May 21. Mr. Slavens recognized the following scholarship winners: Deonna Figert, Goshen College; Stan Smith and Joe Evans, Purdue University; Sandy Frye, Ball State; Bev Fouts and Randy Young, Wabash Magnetics scholarships. Local grants were awarded to Cathy Anglin, Delta Theta Tau; Deonna Figert, Kappa Kappa Kappa grant-in-aid; Diana Mason, Tri Kappa fine arts award; Leonard Gardenour, Kappa Kappa Kappa associate chapter fine arts award; Shelia Morris, National Secretaries Association; Deonna Figert, Wabash County Hospital Auxiliary; Becky Rager, Wabash Teacher's Association; Deonna Figert, Wabash County 40 and 8; John Kunkel, WHS intramural scholarship. Patty Sharp and Kim Clark received the Lulu Baer awards. Certificates presented were National Merit Scholarship letters of commendation to Dennis Deal and Bruce McSpadden; and current affairs Dennis Deal, Leonard Gardenour, and Dan Wilcox. Jenny Yarnelle and Tom Lee were recognized as the top sophomore scholars by the National Honor Society. Laurie Grier and Ted Grossnickle were honored as the best actress and actor from "You Can't Take It With You." Honored as the best typist was Jodie Miller; Patty Sharp was recognized as the outstanding senior in the business department. Various athletic awards were presented along with music, journalism, and Latin awards.

WHS did it again! Every year the students put all of their efforts into the variety show; and "This Is It" was it this year. Mr. Roettinger, director, said that the money raising project for the AFS program was "a job well done." WHS students showed their many different talents by participating in musical numbers, a radio program, a news broadcast, a hi-jack, a Spanish dance by Bea and Carmelu, and the Rockette line complete with the stage crew!

"You Can't Take It with You."

This year Wabash High School presented Hart and Kaufman's play, "You Can't Take It With You," for the annual all-school play.

The setting for the play was the Vanderhof home in New York and the action was centered around two young lovers, Alice Sycamore and Tony Kirby, who were portrayed by Phyllis Cramer and Dan Buckley. Mr. and Mrs. Sycamore were played by Jon Schlemmer and Laurie Grier, while Ted Grossnickle acted as the grandfather. Others in the cast were Chris Atkinson, Nancy Bronson, Kim Clark, Denny Craft, Sandy Frye, Leonard Gardenour, Tom Lee, Margie Magner, Jeff Pettit, Jenni Price, Dave Schlatter, Terry Wensley, and Kathy Waite.

Miss Carly Fox directed the play with help from student directors Cindy Neher and Margie Magner. Gregg Livengood was the stage manager.

Tunnel of Love Leads

THE GUYS WHO HELPED SERVE at the prom take a few minutes to sample the refreshments.

Those who attended the Junior-Senior Prom the night of April 26 discovered that "Love is Blue." Couples entered the cafeteria through the tunnel of love. A bridge led to the dance floor and to a flowing fountain at the end of the room. Stars falling from the blue net ceiling completed the mood. When not dancing to the music provided by Johnny Craig's band, couples rested in white wrought iron chairs. The hard working junior class was headed by committee chairmen Paula Rager, decorations; Jack Wiley, band; Frank Morris, invitations; Jenni Price, refreshments; and Marilee Yohe, table decorations.

Math and Science Include Everything

MRS. STEINER may be on crutches, but that doesn't keep her from checking the work of students Linda Haag and Sharon Boggs.

With test tubes, tote pans, and Bunsen burners, Apaches tried their hands in the chemistry lab under Mrs. Steiner's direction. Those in advanced biology worked with Mr. Elliott to dissect pigs; regular biology students were still working on frogs and crawdads. Mr. Leach's physics class studied the laws of science and nature.

The basic fundamentals of mathematics were taught in courses of algebra, plane and integrated geometry, trigonometry, and analytics. Miss Mills' algebra students attempted to factor equations and tried to remember the quadratic equation, while her trig and analytic students studied the properties of logarithms and three-dimensional figures. Students in Mr. Leach's geometry classes learned how to use compasses, construct triangles, and measure angles.

MR. LEACH AND MARILYN JETT look amused as Gail Hamlin pretends to know what she is doing.

from Formulas to Frogs

WHO WILL WIN the battle—Becky or the microscope? Kim and Gary refuse to say.

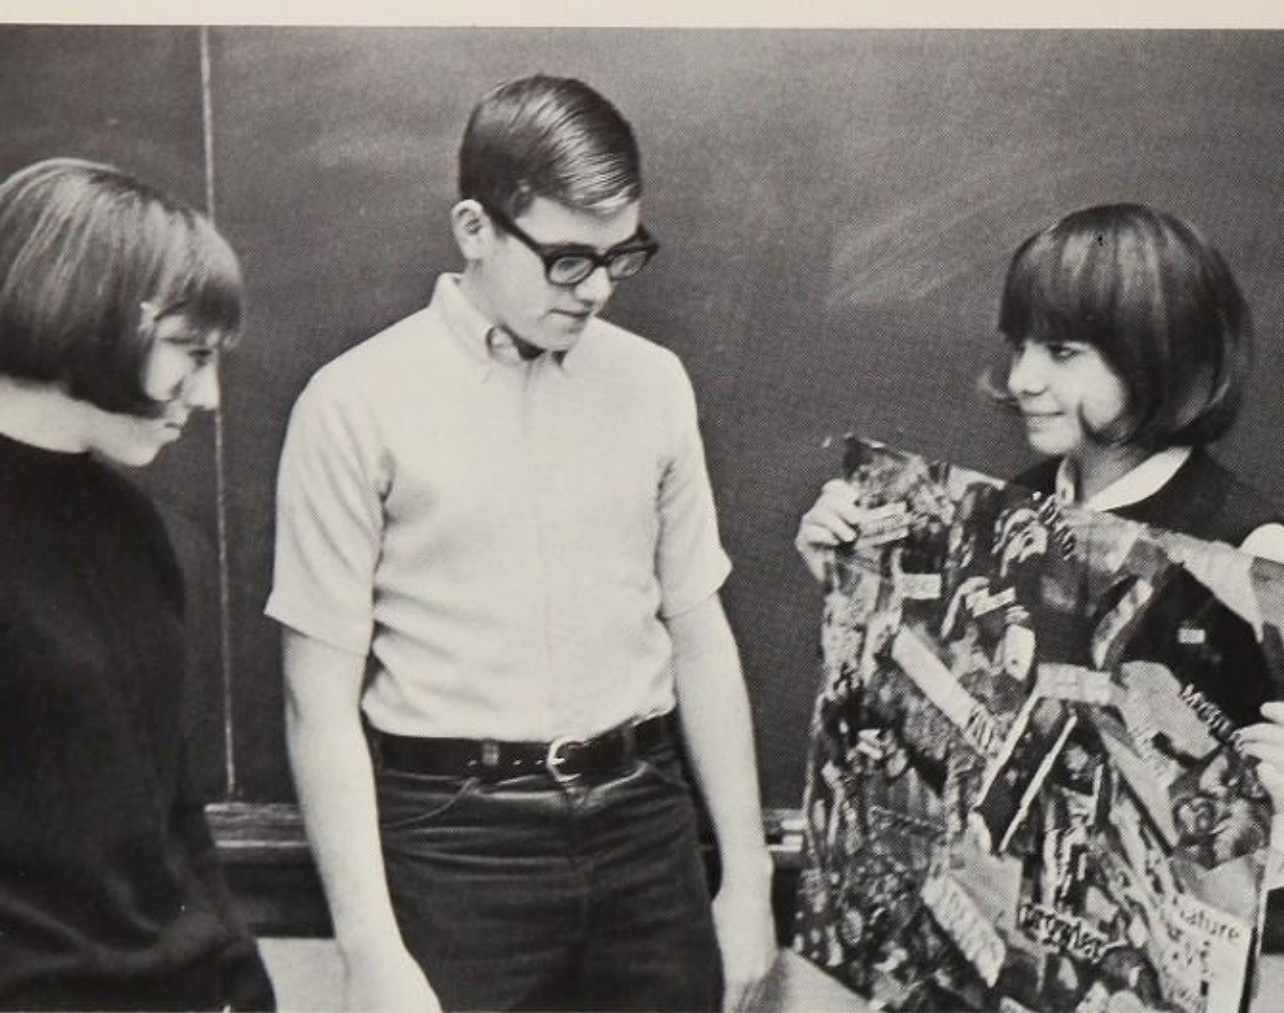

"WON'T I EVEN get half credit for all my effort?" Gary Hartman seems to be asking Miss Mills as Sandy Thomson looks on.

30 SECONDS TILL the explosion! Mrs. Steiner, where are you?

English classes studied American, English, or world literature. They supposedly learned the way their native tongue should be used, even though many of them did not put the knowledge to use. In reading lab Mrs. Haupert helped the students increase their reading speed and comprehension. While learning to improve their public speaking, the Speech class took part in debate, discussion, extemporaneous and original speeches, pantomimes, commercials, and radio programs. They also presented a play entitled "A Christmas Pageant" for the Christmas convocation. While the second year journalism class was busy publishing the Orange & Black, the first year class was learning all the techniques of putting out a newspaper.

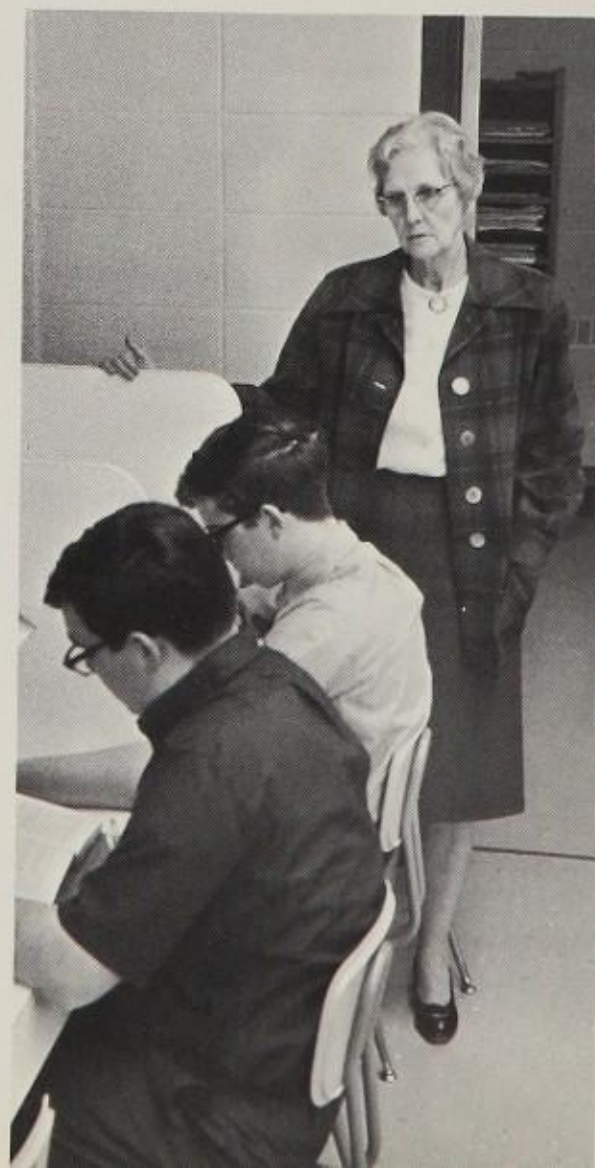

"AND THEY CALL this class English." These three sophomore English students find that a talent for art comes in handy as they work on collages.

Students Master Their Own

MRS. HAUPERT looks on as Charles Guthrie and Stan Smith try to improve their reading skill.

"THAT'S A FUNNY PLACE to put a comma." Tim Stumbo points out a mistake in the book to Mrs. Christle as Mike Cornwell, Vickie Yentes, and Cathy Quinn look on.

JEFF PETTIT gives another one of his famous oratorical declamations.

"PLEASE QUIT looking over my shoulder; it makes me nervous," thinks one of Mrs. Vandegrift's studious English pupils.

Language in English Classes

IT MUST HAVE been funny, but Mr. Roettinger fails to see the humor while trying to teach his first year journalism class.

"... AND BRING YOUR perfect, polished papers clutched in your hot little hands."

Social Studies— Thoughts from Past to Present

"ALRIGHT TROOPS, this chapter may seem long, but it really is."

"THE NORTH DID TOO win the Civil War," insists Miss McGinnis as she lectures to her engrossed U.S. History class.

MR. CAMP DOES HIS THING—teaching psychology?

"WHAT DO YOU KNOW—the grades are better than I thought they would be," says Mr. Shawhan to Shelia Morris and Mike Robinson.

"HOW DREADFUL, you got a refund of a million dollars!" Mrs. Oliver points out the mistake on the 1040 tax form to her economics students.

Sophomores interested in social studies took World History taught by Mr. Gunderman. Team teachers, Miss McGinnis and Mr. Camp, instructed the juniors on U.S. History, a required course.

Mr. Camp also taught sociology and psychology to seniors. In their classes, sociology students studied man and the development of the philosophy of life. Behavior patterns and reasons behind human responses were discussed in psychology class.

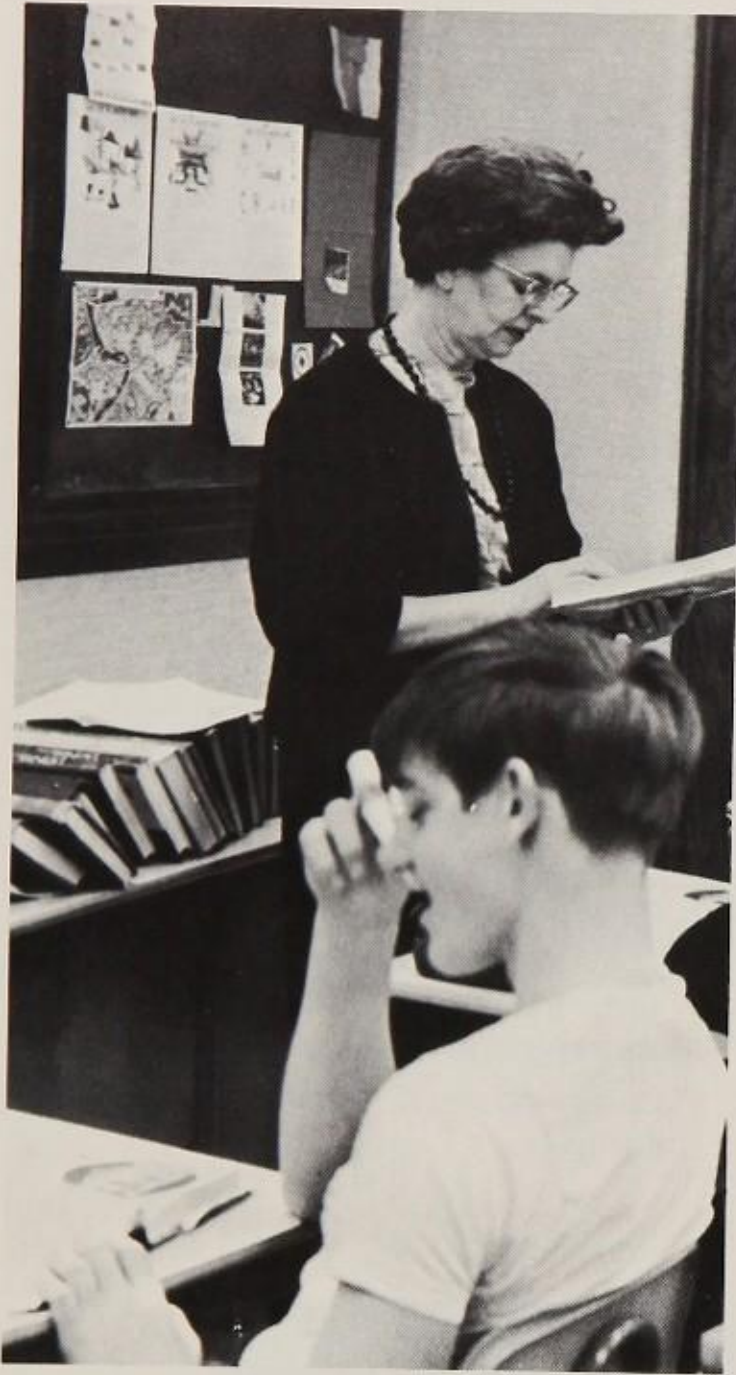

Government and economics classes were taught by Mrs. Oliver and Mr. Shawhan. Seniors studied the functions of local, state, and federal government. Current events and student responsibility to the government were emphasized. Economics classes studied income taxes, corporations, capital gains, and the Gross National Product. Seniors in World Civ studied major nations of the world and sold candy to earn money for a trip to Chicago.

MR. MILLER TAKES time out of his assistant principal's duties to speak to the World Civ class about his experiences during W.W.II.

Foreign Language Adds Spice to Life

"IT MAY BE Latin to you, but it's Greek to me," thinks Dan Sample as he tries to concentrate.

The different foreign language teachers all guided their classes this year through verb conjugation and vocabulary words. The first year classes learned speech patterns and conversation. Second year classes studied grammar and composition, while third year classes were busy with literature and composition as subjects of study.

Mrs. Lavengood not only taught Latin to her classes but also made mythology more familiar. Mr. Kreps, Miss Bird, and Mrs. Brane worked diligently to instill an interest in foreign languages in their respective classes.

MODERN EQUIPMENT makes French more enjoyable for teachers and students.

MR. KREPS CANNOT believe that this is the advanced German class. "Are they really Nazis in disguise?"

Mr. Kreps guided his third and fourth year classes through difficult readings of Lessing and Goethe. Mrs. Lavengood's classes enjoyed new Latin books while the French and Spanish classes benefited from the use of the modern lab facilities. Student teachers and guest speakers from the countries being studied provided a deviation from the everyday routine.

Students Prepare for Future

"IT ONLY TAKES ONE to ruin the curve," says Mr. Spencer as he hands back papers in his business law class.

Wabash High School students learned much invaluable training in the many business classes. Mrs. Soderwick taught typing, business law, and shorthand. Mr. Graham drilled his students in typing, while Mr. Spencer helped his students learn retailing, bookkeeping, and typing. Mr. Roettinger, in addition to his other duties, taught bookkeeping.

"WHAT DO YOU MEAN you broke the typewriter!" Mr. Graham points out the trouble to a worried Debbie Lester.

"DEAR SIR: we would like to order . . ." Mrs. Soderwick dictates to her shorthand class.

Home Ec Girls Learn of Family Needs

"THERE'S MORE TO planning a house than I thought." Carol Harman, Blythe Whinery, and Cheryl Rust look over their floor plans and samples in interior decoration.

The home economics department strove to teach girls how to cope with the needs of a home and family. They not only developed skills in cooking and sewing, but they also acquired habits, attitudes, and ideals concerning home and family life. Whenever aromas from the home ec room drifted through the halls, the seniors always wondered what the girls were "cooking up."

Planning their future home was the project of the students in interior decoration. After drawing the floor plans, they collected materials, such as paint and carpet samples, to complete the house.

FROM THE LOOK on Peggy Helm's face, sifting flour is more fun than a lot of other things in the preparation of foods.

"YOU JUST FOLD it over then press it down." Miss Weaver instructs a puzzled Laurie Grier in one of the finer basic points of clothing construction.

"THE FIRST STEP in operating any machine is to turn the switch to On." Mr. Holloway attempts to get this point across to his machine shop class.

Mr. Holloway and Mr. Huffman, teaching shop and mechanical drawing, attempted to help their students develop safe working practices and skills in the use of tools and machines. Boys in wood-working classes made everything from salt and pepper shakers to cedar chests and coffee tables. Mechanical drawing students studied sketching, geometric construction, graphs, and charts. Future architects mastered techniques in the design of homes and places of business.

Practical Arts Now—Jobs Tomorrow

MR. HUFFMAN instructs an interested Gary Harlan about the fundamentals of working with wood.

DESIGNING FEMALES ARE a constant threat in drafting class. Not as constant as some may think though; Sherry Cole is the only girl taking mechanical drafting this year.

SO HOW WAS I supposed to know that the dumb turpentine wasn't supposed to go into the plaster jar!

"A DIBBLE HERE and a dabble there, and I hope it turns out to be a picture," comments Ellen Weiland.

Apaches Learn to Live and Paint

While art class may be the messiest class at the high school, it is also one of the most enjoyable. The students worked in ceramics, mosaics, collages, weaving, paper sculpturing, plaster, and paints as they learned about the line, color, and the other fundamentals of art.

The adult living classes discussed the problems of dating, the selection of a marriage partner, and intermarriages. They also made a scrapbook of magazine articles dealing with any phase of adult living.

VICTORY, VICTORY that's our cry—but in adult living?

Mrs. Halley's gym classes participated in swimming, bowling, and ice skating. The boys' gym classes, taught by Mr. Gunderman, had a varied schedule of activities ranging from basketball to dodgeball. Driver education classes learned the responsibility of being defensive drivers as taught by Mr. David and Mr. Shawhan.

As in previous years, the two big projects undertaken by the Student Council were Homecoming and "This Is It," the variety show. They also held WHS's second International Day, and helped plan the convocations. Several members worked for better understanding among the county schools by serving on the Intra-County Student Council. Officers elected for this year were Bruce McSpadden, president; Doug Wilson, vice-president; Chris Hosler, secretary; Loretta Walker, treasurer.

Character, leadership, scholarship and service—these are the four requirements that members of the National Honor Society must meet. Before induction into this honorary organization, students must attain a certain grade average and must be screened by a panel of teachers. In addition to serving the school in many other activities, NHS members did a follow-up study of the 1965 graduates of WHS.

Students at Wabash High School looked forward to receiving the Orange & Black every two weeks. Editors Suzie Miller and Dave Conyer directed the staff with the help of Mr. Roettinger, sponsor. The O&B staff reported the news concerning events in sports, club activities, musical programs, and school life in general. They also helped celebrate Homecoming and the Sectional with special issues. The Senior Issue centered around the whole school career of the class of '69. This year's Orange & Black staff worked hard to determine and to satisfy the tastes of the readers.

Organizations for Young Journalists

Fifteen students were chosen to be inducted into Quill and Scroll, an international honorary journalistic organization for high school journalists. To be eligible for this society, a student must be in the upper one-third of his class; he must also have done excellent work on the Orange & Black, the school newspaper, or the Sycamore, the yearbook. A recommendation by a supervisor is also required. Each student must prove his ability to write articles, accept responsibility, and to co-operate with others.

THESE BAND MEMBERS wait behind stage before an important band concert. New band uniforms highlight their year.

The Wabash High School band not only sounded good this year but also looked good in their new uniforms. They earned the money for the uniforms by having fish and tenderloin suppers. They played at all of the home football and basketball games and marched in four parades. They also took part in the County Music Festival and state contest and performed their annual concerts for the community. At the spring concert Judy Jones was crowned as the 1969 Band Sweetheart. Officers for this year were Gail Hamlin, president; Dave Wagmer, vice-president; Kathy Lower, secretary; and Judy Jones, treasurer. The band was directed by Mr. Steiner.

The Symphonic Choir, composed of the Belles and Beaux and the Choralers, performed concerts, television shows, and community engagements throughout the year. Directed by Mr. Steiner, they sang for the annual Christmas program presented by the Marion television station. They also participated in the County Music Festival, state contest, and individual members performed in the NISBOVA district vocal and ensemble competition. The Wabash High School Choir made visits to grade schools and churches, too. They were well received everywhere, showing that the long hours of rehearsing had been worthwhile.

VENTRILOQUIST DAVE SCHLATTER entertains many audiences with Richard Leonardo Todd.

Wabash High School's Belles and Beaux, who were directed by Mr. Steiner, performed in the "Television Telethon" at Marion for the March of Dimes. They took part in a contest at Plymouth where they received an excellent rating. The two numbers they sang were, "Go Away From My Window" and "Who Can I Turn To." This year they also gave programs for the elementary schools, for community and business organizations, and for the high school. During spring vacation, the WHS Belles and Beaux went on tour to different high schools around the state.

Clubs Add to School Life

The Red Cross Council continued its service to other people this year by helping Cheer, Inc. and collecting money for the March of Dimes by having a "blanket pitch" at one of the basketball games. Helping Mr. Koons, sponsor, plan the activities were Vicki Deal, president; Rita Perry, vice-president; and Kathy Lower, secretary-treasurer.

Sponsored by Mrs. Steiner and Mr. Elliott, the WHS Science Club went on field trips to the Wabash County Hospital Laboratory, General Tire Laboratory, and to Chicago. This year's officers were Gary Pinkerton, president; Kim Clark, vice-president; and Peggy Scott, secretary-treasurer.

Art Club members used metals, oil paints, ceramics, and mosaics to develop and improve their art skills. Jon Schlemmer, president, supervised in hall decorations and in making scenery for the Variety Show and the play. Mr. Koons was the sponsor.

Day after day the members of the Camera Club received numerous picture request forms from the staffs of the Orange & Black and the Sycamore. They also took color pictures at the Prom, Harvest Ball, and graduation.

The aim of the members of the Tri-Hi-Y club is "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, high standards of Christian character." The girls were constantly looking for ways to help people in their own community or in troubled spots all over the world.

The service club continued its activities this year by taking trips to White's Institute and the Logansport State Mental Hospital. The members also worked hard planning the Harvest Ball and raising money for World Service. Several of the members gave prayers before the basketball games. This year's officers were Chris Hosler, president; Cathy Copple, vice-president; Jenni Price, secretary; Suzie Miller, treasurer; Chris Dingley, chaplain; and Cindy Harner, sergeant-at-arms. Mrs. Hauptert and Mrs. Christle helped the club as advisors.

A variety of sports such as football, volleyball, swimming, and bowling, kept the girls in G.A.A. busy after school on Wednesday nights. The girls also formed a basketball team which competed with girls from surrounding schools. Miss McGinnis was the sponsor. Officers were Deonna Figert, Linda Dewart, and Danna Figert.

Future Secretaries Association, headed by Ginny Elliott, Claudia Miller, Connie Snyder, Pam Powell, Linda Prybylinski, and Shelia Morris, held monthly meetings. The girls viewed films on secretarial duties and visited the Beauchamp and McSpadden Insurance Agency. Mrs. Sodervick was the club sponsor.

Smaller Through Languages

French Club had a variety of meetings this year, including a guest speaker, Daniel Veaux, from France. They also saw Mrs. Lavengood's slides of France. The club ordered French Club pins and some of the members corresponded with pen pals from France. Miss Bird, sponsor, was helped by Kathy Waite, president; Anne Murphy, vice-president; and Cathy Copple, secretary-treasurer.

This year's officers for German Club were Eva Lively, president; Suzie Miller, vice-president; and Ted Grossnickle, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Kreps was the sponsor.

Speech Club—a Way to Self-Expression

SANDY PERFILIO plays nosy Mrs. Zooker in the hilarious comedy, "The Flattering Word."

The Speech Club members were active in speech meets at Pierceton, Bellemont, Northfield, and Columbus, and were hosts to a local meet. The club helped with the Christmas convocation and produced a one-act play, "The Flattering Word." This year's officers were Denny Craft, president; Becky Rager, vice-president; Kathy Waite, secretary; and Margie Magner, treasurer.

The National Forensic League is an honorary organization with one thousand chapters in the United States. Speech Club members worked toward membership in N.F.L. by participating in interscholastic speech contests. The chapter at Wabash was headed by Ted Grossnickle, president; Dan Whitehead, vice-president; Shannon Yentes, secretary; Carol Adamson, treasurer; Kathy Nigh, point secretary; and Jenni Price, historian. Both clubs were sponsored by Miss Wills, the first semester, and Miss Fox, the second semester.

the Spirit of WHS

GOOD-BYE MONKEY SUITS! HELLO SWEATER VESTS After years of talking about it, the booster block finally agrees on their new outfits—they are great!

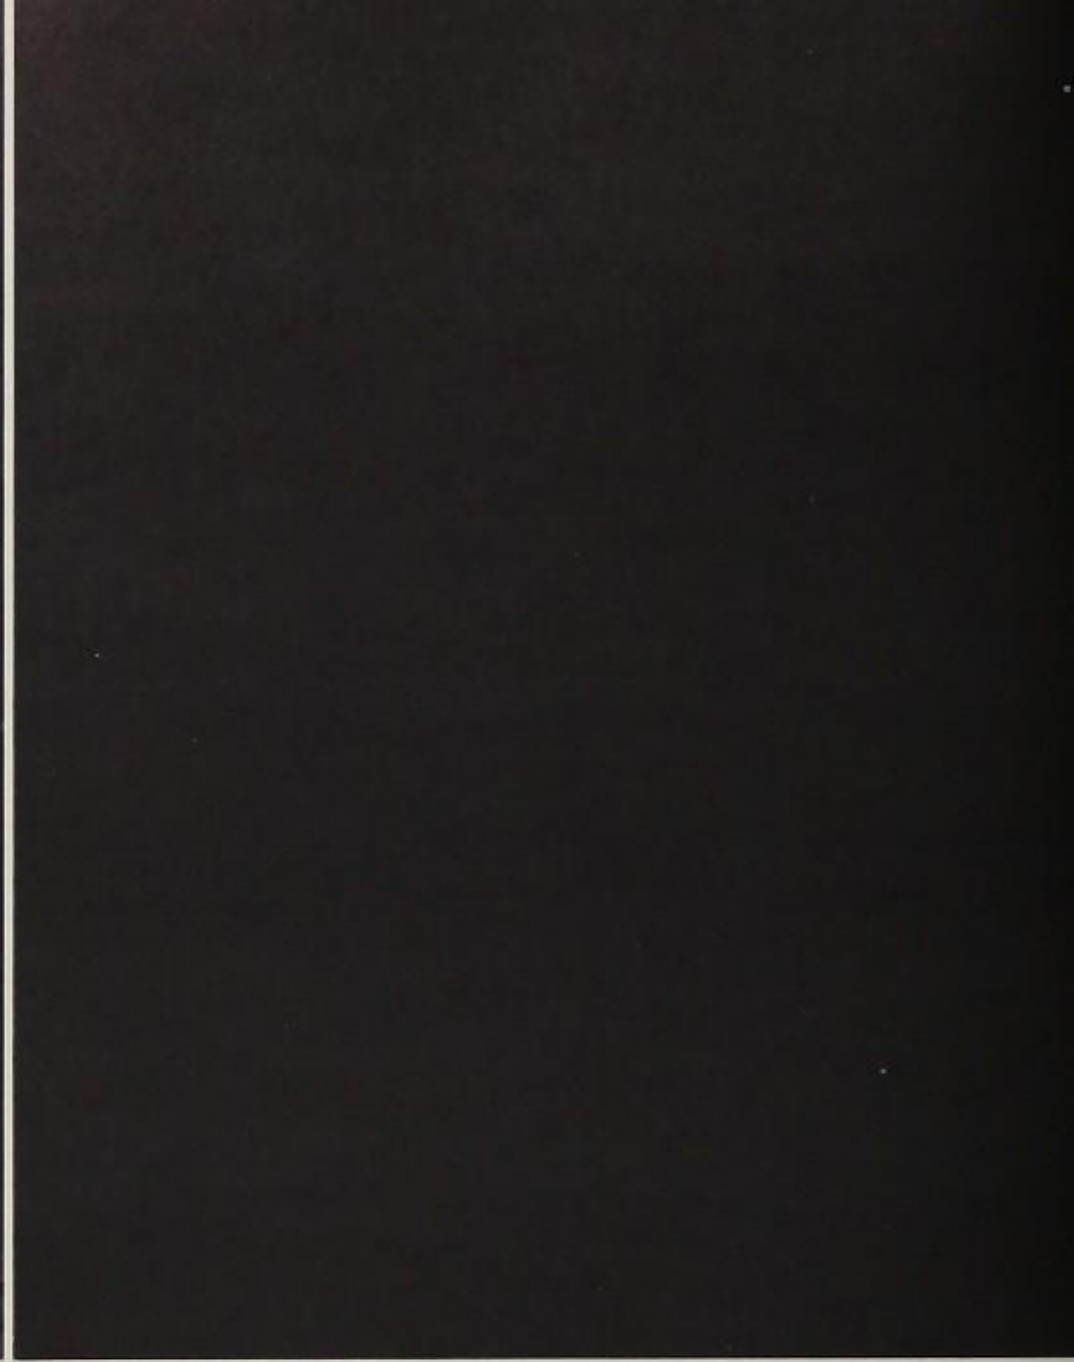

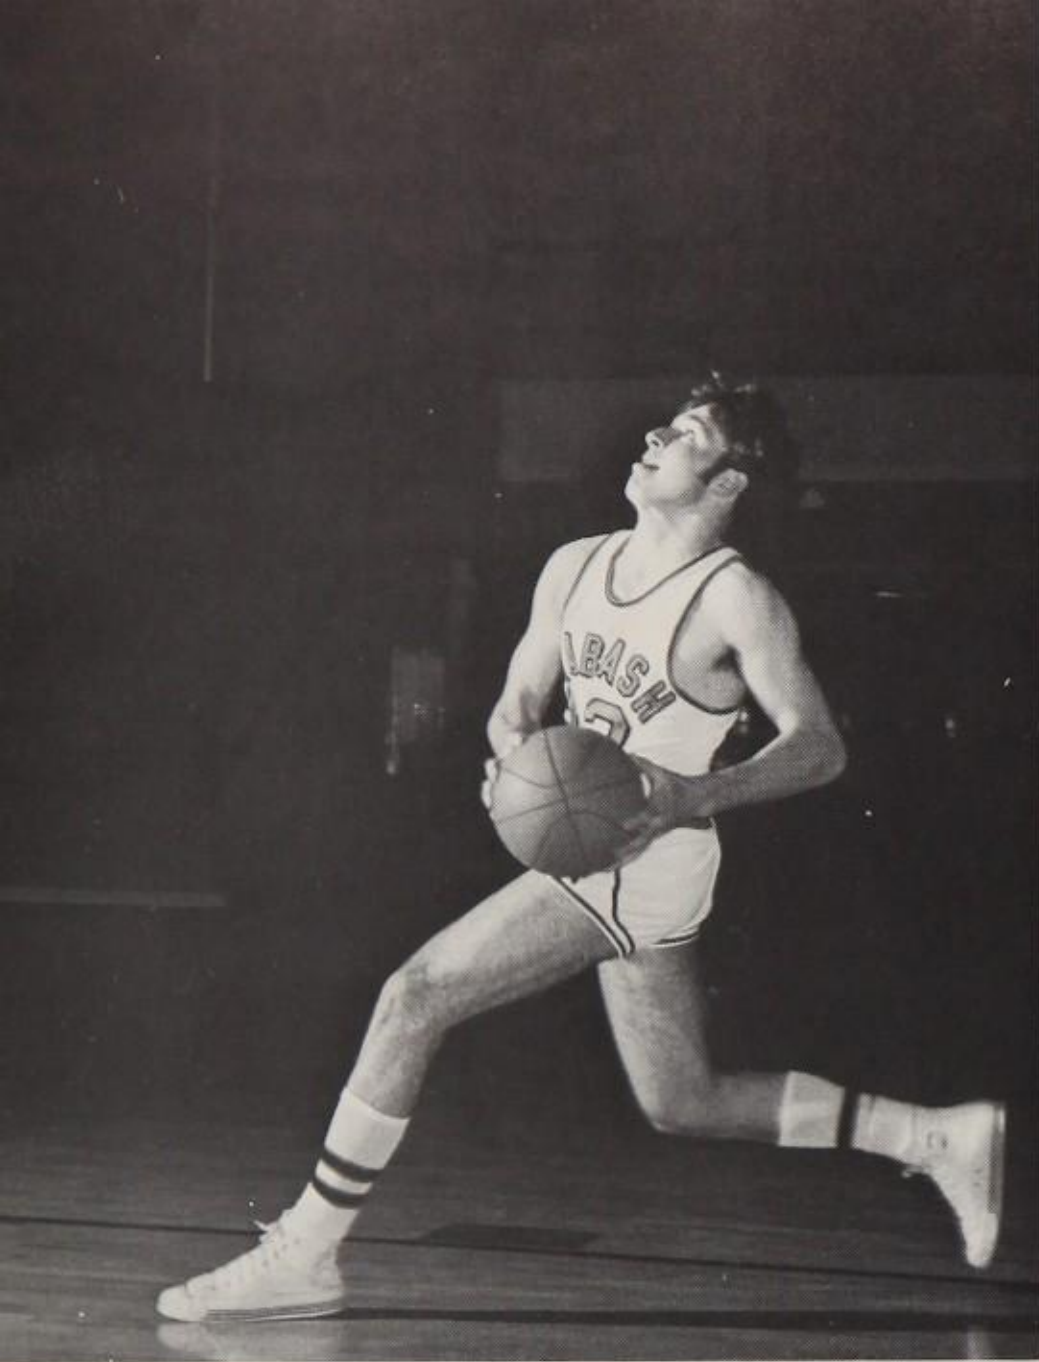

Approximately 150 girls participated in the booster block this year. New outfits consisting of black sweater vests with orange WHS emblems were purchased. Officers were elected for the first time in many years. They were Caryl DeLauter, president; Anne Murphy, vice-president; and Louann Harrell, secretary. Committees were also formed to help make the club more efficient.

The purpose of the FCA Club is "to confront coaches and athletes, and through them challenge the youth of the nation in the adventure of following Christ through the fellowship of the church." The Wabash chapter upholds this ideal by taking part in a wide variety of activities. They spoke at service clubs and church groups about their experiences at FCA summer camp. This year they earned money for next year's trip by working for the Boys' Club. They also co-sponsored the Harlem All-Star basketball game and printed programs for the home basketball games.

The club was headed this year by Jack Wiley, president; Joe Evans, vice-president; Terry Shawhan, secretary-treasurer; and Doug Wilson, program chairman. Mr. Shawhan, with the help of Mr. David, was the sponsor.

Wabash High School gridders worked hard to earn a share in the CIC title with Huntington and Tipton. The hours of practice paid off during the last game when Wabash defeated Tipton 26 to 17. All three of the teams ended the season with five wins and one loss in conference play.

The squad showed the desire and ability needed for a winning team by completing the season with a 7—2—1 record. After losing their opening game to Warsaw, the Apaches came back to defeat Peru and Alexandria. At the next outing, Huntington dealt Wabash their second, and last, loss of the season and their only defeat in the conference. A tie with Manchester was the only game of the remaining six that the Apaches did not win.

Seven Apaches represented Wabash on the CIC teams. Jeff Pettit and Bob Christman were chosen for the first team. Other players honored were Joe Evans, second team, and Jon Miller, Doug Wilson, Fred Prickett, and Mike Bechtol, honorable mention. At the Awards Banquet, Joe Evans received the most valuable player award and the defensive secondary award. Other awards went to Doug Wilson, most improved player; Bob Christman, defensive linebacker award; Jon Miller, defensive lineman award; and Bob Schloot, the Gus Dorais Loyalty Award.

SURVEYING THE SITUATION, head coach Paul Gunderman relays a message on the headphones to the players below. Although he looks worried, the Apaches win again!

to Achieve Season Record of 10—10

Although the 1968-69 Apaches were young and had little varsity experience, they ended the year with a 10—11 record. Coach Robert Shawhan said of the season: "I think this year was a successful year. We usually denote success by the number of games won and the number lost; but I don't think you can evaluate this year that way. Of the eleven games we lost, every game was a close contest except one. We lost four one-point games to good teams; we lost three by three points. Wherever they went, the Apaches put up a good fight. They received the support of the community as their fans 'backed them to stand against the best in the land.' "

This year Joe Evans received the rebound award at the Awards Banquet. By hitting 45 percent of his shots, Gregg Livengood earned the shooting percentage award; he and Terry Shawhan tied for the free throw percentage award. The defensive award went to Bob Schloot, and Steve Reinhard was named the most improved player on the junior varsity team. Joe Evans and Bob Schloot received another honor as they were chosen for the all-conference second team.

TERRY SHAWHAN seems to be receiving a short lesson in karate as his opponent tries unsuccessfully to stop his drive.

A GREAT EFFORT by senior guard Bob Schloot results in two more points for the Apaches.

MR. SHAWHAN LOOKS DEEPLY into the pre-Sectional bonfire, apparently searching for a winning combination.

Apaches Win Holiday Tourney

CO-CAPTAINS JOE EVANS AND BOB SCHLOOT proudly display the team's winning championship trophy from the Holiday Tourney.

Wabash brought home two trophies from the Holiday Tourney as both the varsity and B-teams beat Northfield in the evening games. The squads advanced to the championship games by defeating Southwood in the afternoon. Although it was the first year that the B-team won the tournament, it was the third straight victory for the varsity Apaches. Steve Hodson led the scoring for the junior varsity with 24 points while his teammate, Rod Eppley, grabbed 16 rebounds. In the varsity Bob Schloot was the top scorer, having 33 points. The leading rebounders were Joe Evans with 22 and Gregg Livengood with 15. During the tournament Wabash stole the ball 31 times, and in the final game the Apaches hit a sizzling 48 percent of their shots.

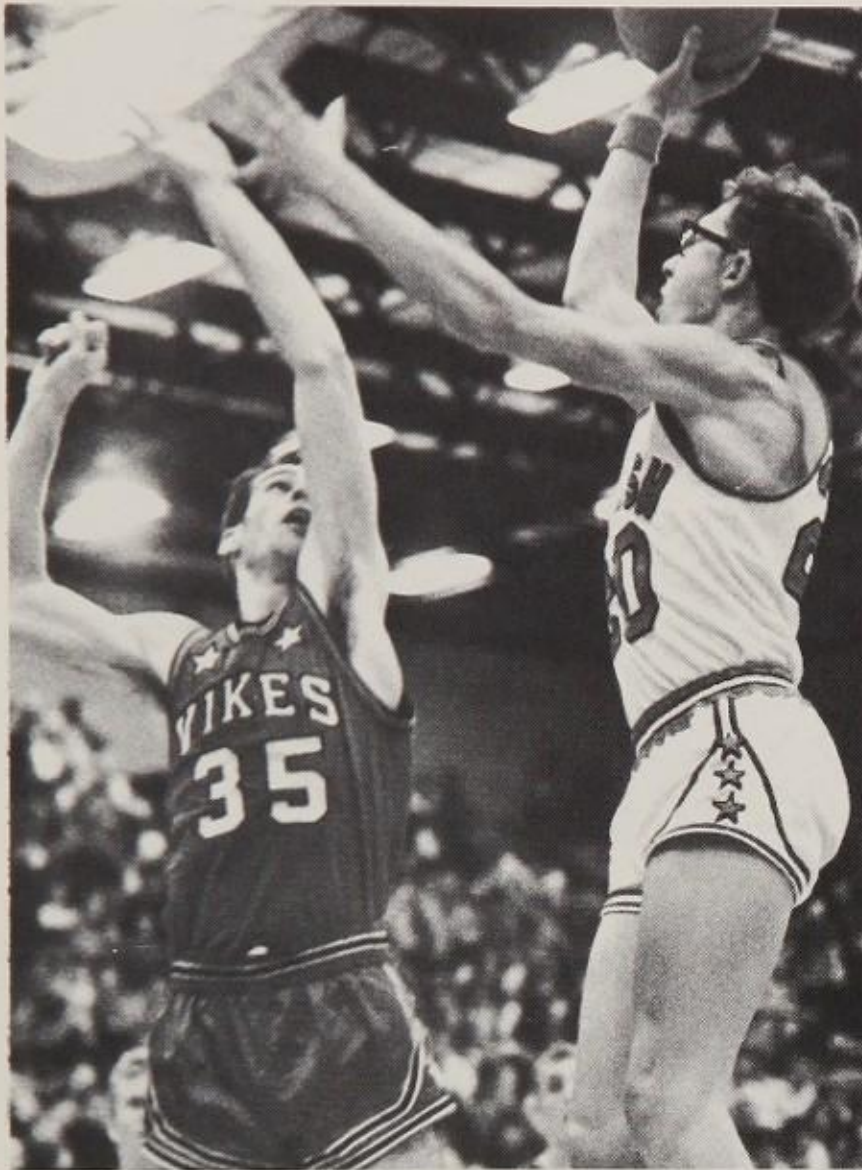

UP FOR GRABS! Going up for a possible rebound is Apache forward Joe Evans.

Muzzillo, Richard Gardner, Dave Bickel, Steve Reinhard, Rod Eppley, John Miller, Tom Lee, Head Coach Fred Huffman.

IF DETERMINATION IS ALL THAT COUNTS, Steve Reinhard will come out the winner in this battle for the ball.

Coach Fred Huffman was very proud of the junior varsity team this year as they closed the season with a record of 17 wins and 3 losses. The leading scorer was Steve Hodson. Percentage wise, Jack Wiley, Steve Reinhard, and Dave Bickel had the best shooting averages. Rod Eppley had the best free throw percentage at the end of the year, hitting 70 percent of his shots, while he and Steve Reinhard led the team in rebounds with 104 and 134 respectively. Coach Huffman emphasized the fact that the team had a strong defense during the season. On the average, they held their opponents to 38.5 points per game.

Cheerleaders, Pom Pom Girls Back Teams

"B" TEAM CHEERLEADERS—Nancy Mossman, Cathy Quinn, Mary Miller, Chris Cole.

The WHS cheerleaders attended a cheerleading camp at Vincennes University last summer where they received an honorable mention in competition. The purpose of the camp was to teach the girls new yells and the background of cheerleading. Besides practicing yells for the ball games, the girls promoted school spirit with pep sessions and decorations in the halls, locker room, and gymnasium.

The latest addition to sports at WHS were the Pom Pom girls. Sixteen Apache princesses were chosen from the large number who auditioned. The girls added life to the home football and basketball games by presenting routines at half-time. Mrs. Halley, Miss Weaver, and Miss Fox were the sponsors.

WHS Breaks Three Records

JIM GACKENHEIMER comes in for a hard landing after a "broad jump."

JOHN KUNKEL AND DEAN FRIERMOOD race a mile for a victory.

The beginning of spring also marks the beginning of track practice at WHS. Coach Dennis Horn's team had a very successful season, winning ten out of twelve meets.

The cindermen placed third in the CIC and eighth in the sectional this year. The mile relay team broke all previous records at the sectional with a time of 331.6. The relay team was made up of Gregg Livengood, Greg McLain, John Miller, and Terry Shawhan. Another school record was broken by Terry Shawhan, who ran the 440 with a new time of 51.6. Still another record was broken by John Miller, who ran the half mile with a time of 2.01.8.

Joe Evans and Steve Reinhard qualified for the regional with their high jumping skills, and Terry Shawhan in the 440.

Reta Ford was the 1969 track queen, and represented Wabash at the all-county meet at Northfield and at the CIC meet at Tipton.

GET YOUR LEG UP, STEVE! Steve Reinhard begins his high jump.

MIKE DENNEY leads the Apaches to a victory. John Bever places second.

Cornwell, Mike Hopkins, Phil Keefer, Joe Evans, Terry Shawhan.

The WHS baseball team, coached by Mr. Robert Shawhan, ended the season with an even 6—6 record. Mike Bechtol hit two home runs back to back against Northfield. In that same game, Joe Evans pitched a one hit shut out to win the game, 10—0. Doug Wilson led the Apaches with a .464 batting average. He was followed by Mike Cornwell, .357; Mike Bechtol, .348; and Randy Frye, .333. Joe Evans ended the season with the best pitching record, 3—1, while Steve Hodson had a 2—2 record. Mike Cornwell chalked up four walks; Terry Shawhan and Phil Keefer each had three.

WHO HAS THE BALL? Steve Hodson and Mike Bechtol agree to pose for a picture, but no one could find a ball.

Apache Harriers Run, Run, Run

The boys participating in cross country, a sport which requires endurance and spirit, were coached by Mr. Dennis Horn. The daily practice sessions paid off well as the team compiled a fine season record of nine wins and two losses. They also placed second in both the CIC meet and in the Sectional. The returning lettermen were John Kunkel, Tom Wiley, Gregg Livengood, John Miller, and Tom Frierhood, who has earned three letters for cross country.

FROM START TO FINISH the CIC meet produces much excitement and a few injuries as someone usually gets trampled in the crowd.

TIM SCHEER demonstrates perfect balance during a practice session.

Wabash High School's gymnastic team was coached by Mr. Ken Conner and composed entirely of new members. The team worked on the trampoline, parallel bars, horse, rings and high bar, and mats. Due to the lack of varsity experience the team failed to win a meet; however, Randy Miller had a good year, winning several first places in trampoline and floor exercise. Those who received letters were Keith Bond, Mike Loe, Randy Miller, Tim Scheer, and Ron Wolf. Mr. Conner said, "Our boys are good prospects and with some work and time we'll have a steady team."

HE FLIES THROUGH THE AIR with the greatest of ease. Mike Loe prepares for a gymnastics meet.

JUNIOR GRAPPLER, Jack Myers, attempts to pin his foe.

WHAT DO I DO NOW? Lester Czerwin's opponent finds himself in an awkward position.

Wabash High School's wrestling team was coached by Mr. Mike Creighton. The team finished the season with four wins and six losses. Jeff Pettit, the number one wrestler in Wabash County, won the heavyweight division in the conference and finished fourth in the Sectional. Lester Czerwin placed second in the conference and in the Sectional. There were eight returning lettermen this year. They were Dave Adams, Lester Czerwin, Steve Gray, Jack Myers, Jeff Pettit, Corky Ross, Wilbur Salyers, and Steve Stumbo.

Swinging Golfers Win Two

GOLF TEAM—(ROW 1) Coach Jim Camp, Mark Higgley, Steve Hodson, Bill Dannacher, Dan Archer, and Doug Muzzillo. (ROW 2) Randy Miller, Pete

Galloway, Gary Muzzillo, Tom Tullis, and Rick Harris.

Wabash High School's golf team, which had no returning lettermen, was coached by Mr. James Camp. The team finished the regular season with a 2—10 record, beating only Northfield and Peru. They placed eleventh in the Sectional and were eighth in the CIC.

At the end of the season, Dan Archer was voted honorary captain, while Bill Dannacher was named the most valuable player. Letters were earned by senior Gary Hartman; juniors Doug Muzzillo, Steve Hodson, and Dan Whitehead; freshmen Rick Harris and Bill Dannacher.

STEVE HODSON prepares to demonstrate a perfect swing.

TENNIS TEAM—(ROW 1) D. Deal, E. Berghorn, M. Hopkemier, K. Clark, J. Seaton.
(ROW 2) Mr. Spencer, D. King, J. Rumpf, R. Smith, and T. Forbes.

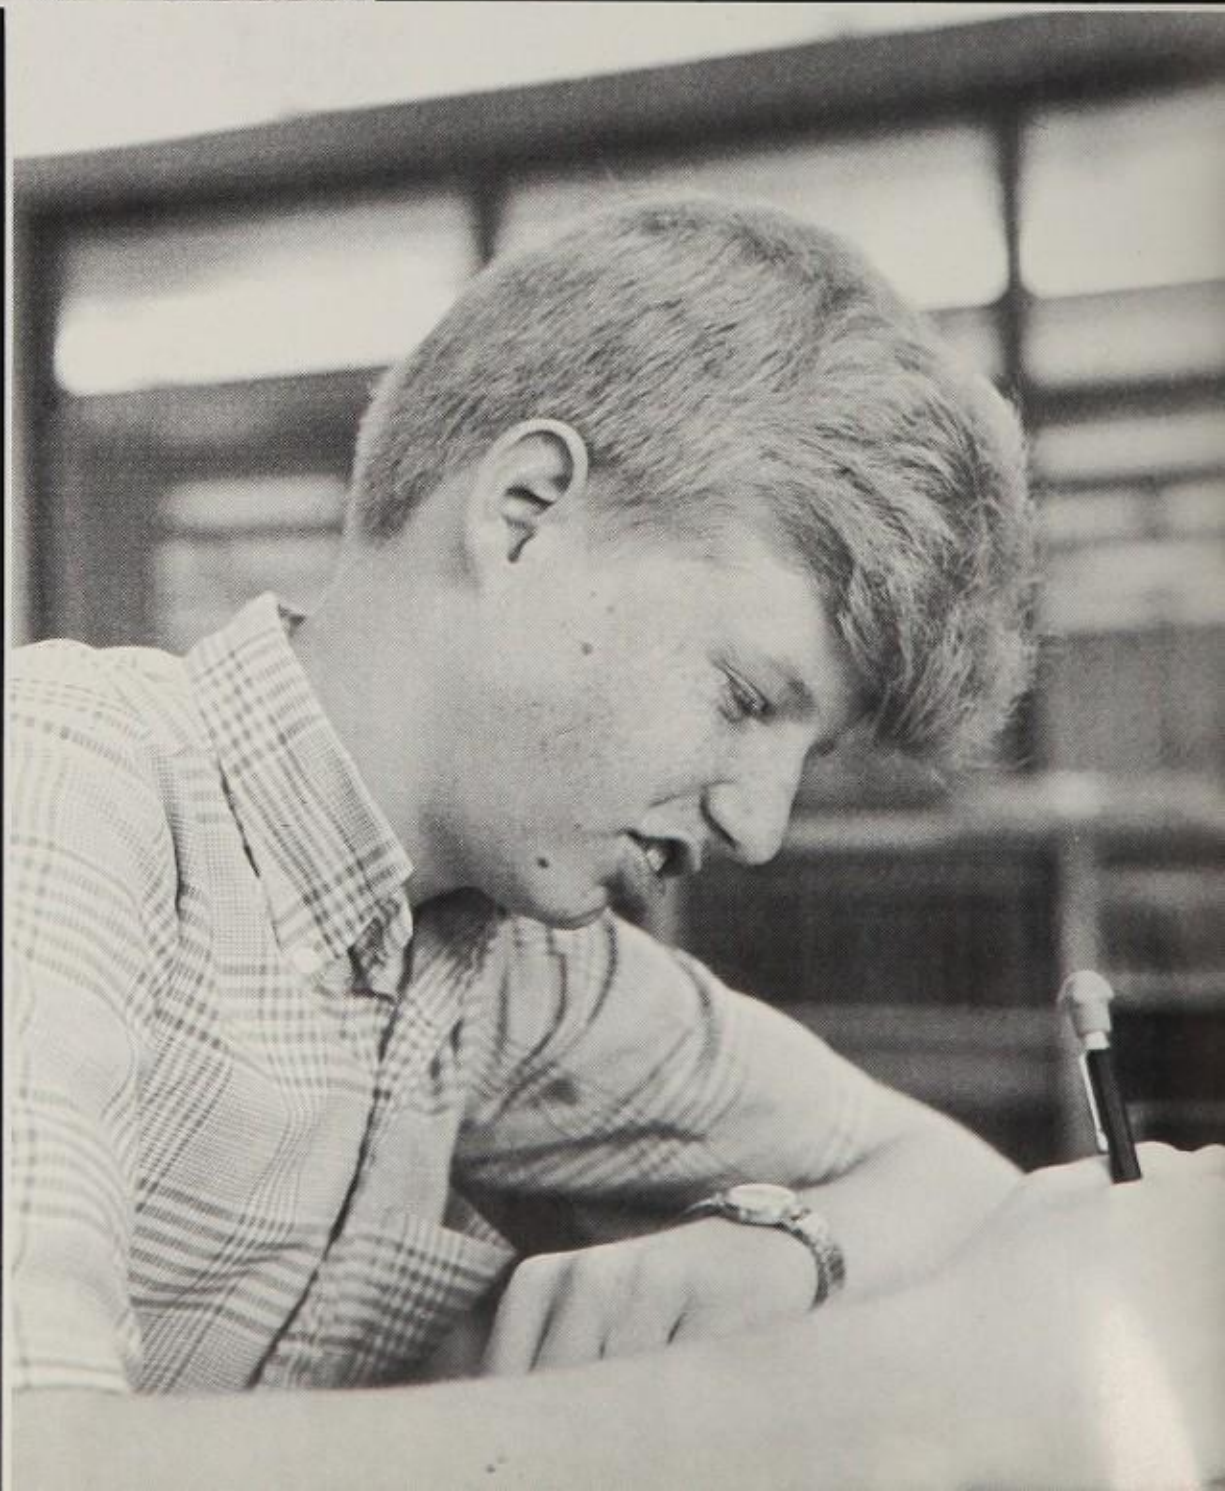

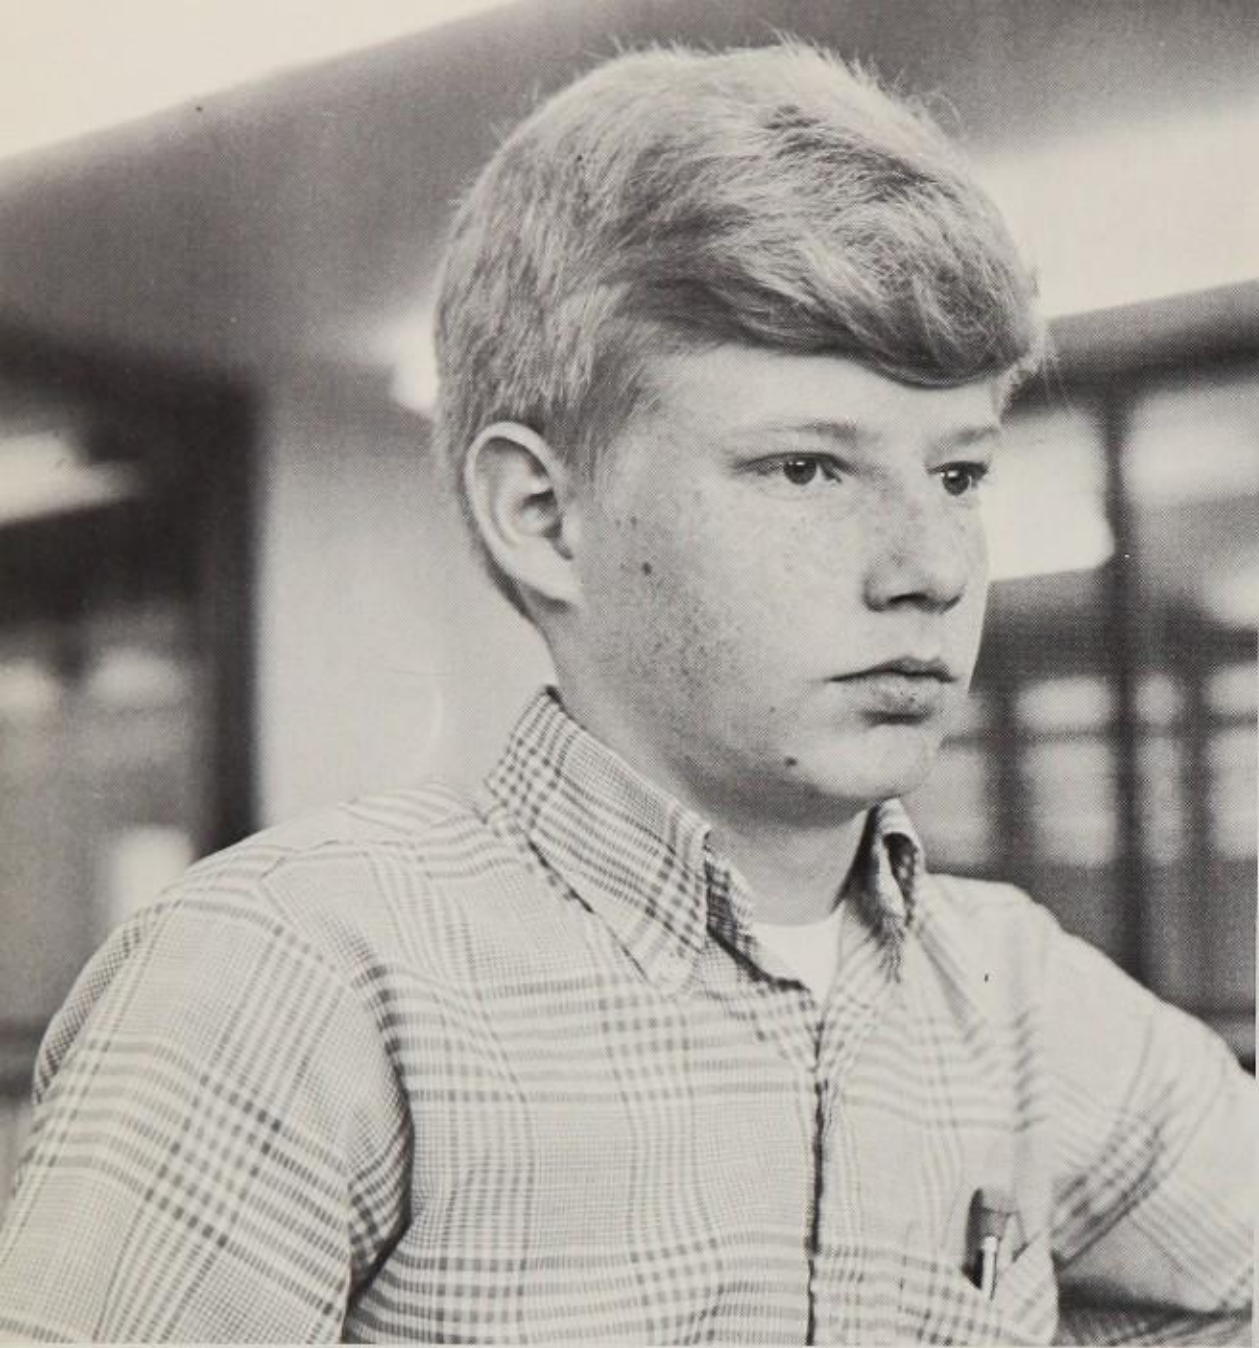

MARK HOIPKEMIER is a returning letterman on this year's tennis team.

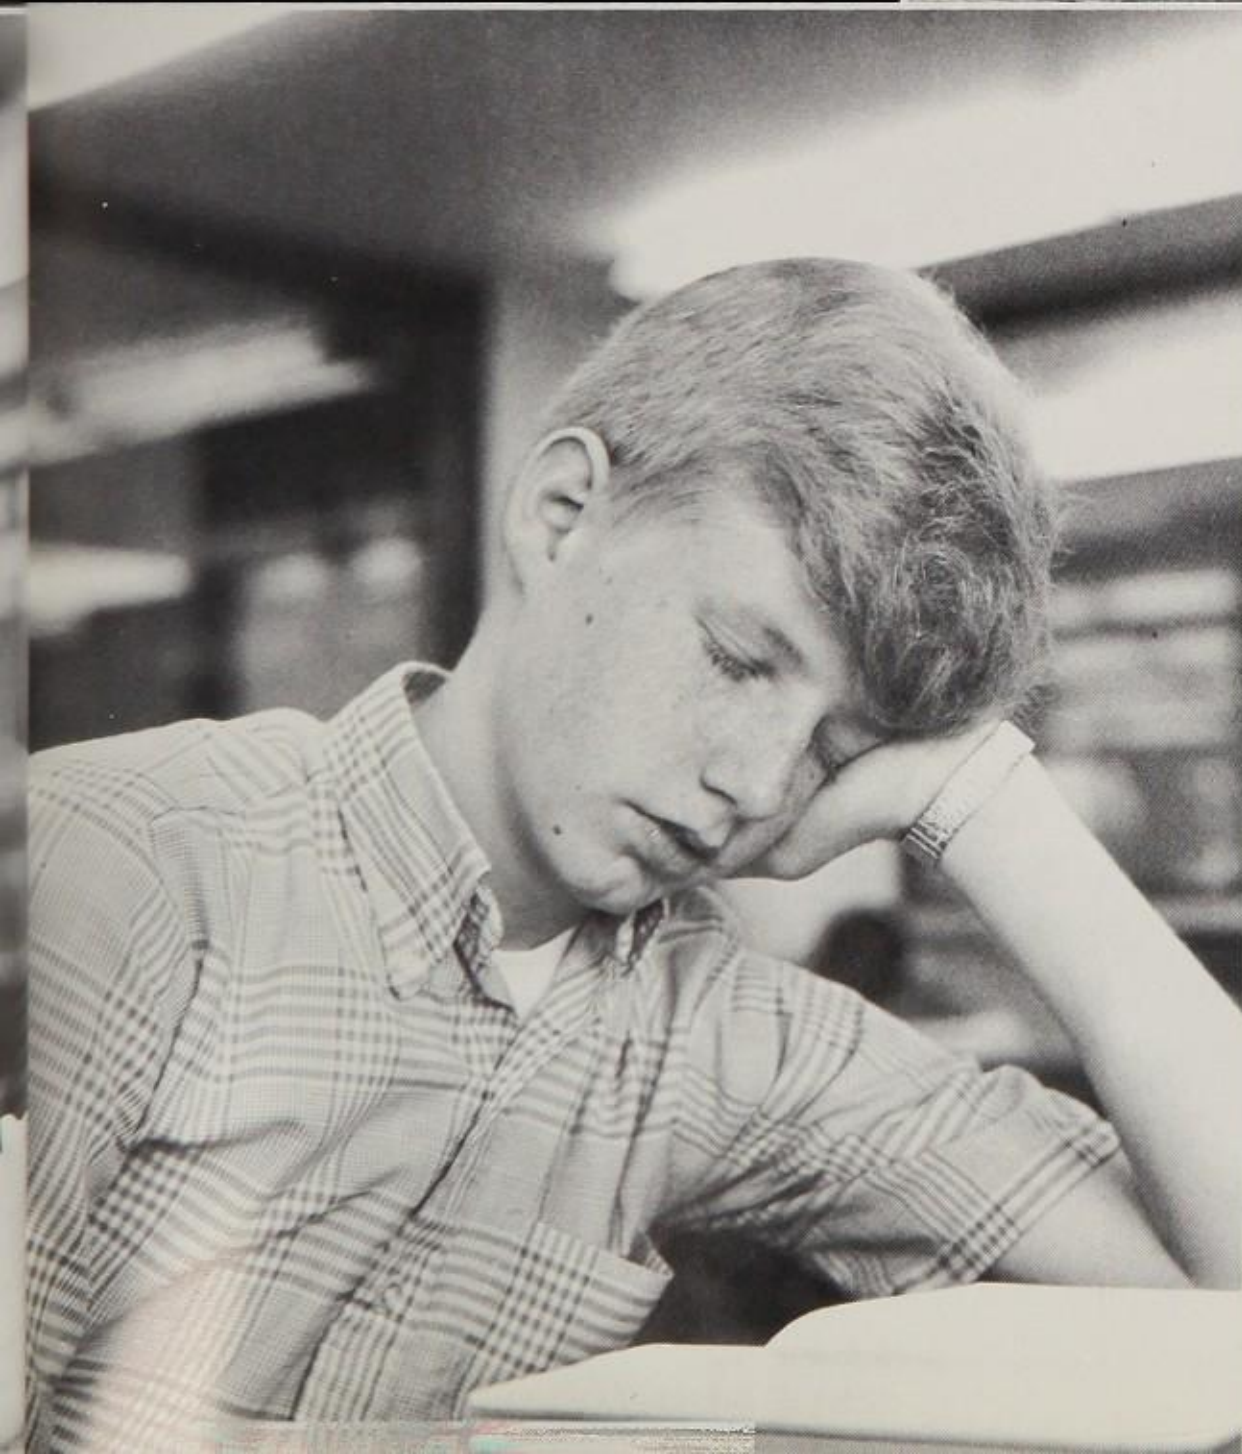

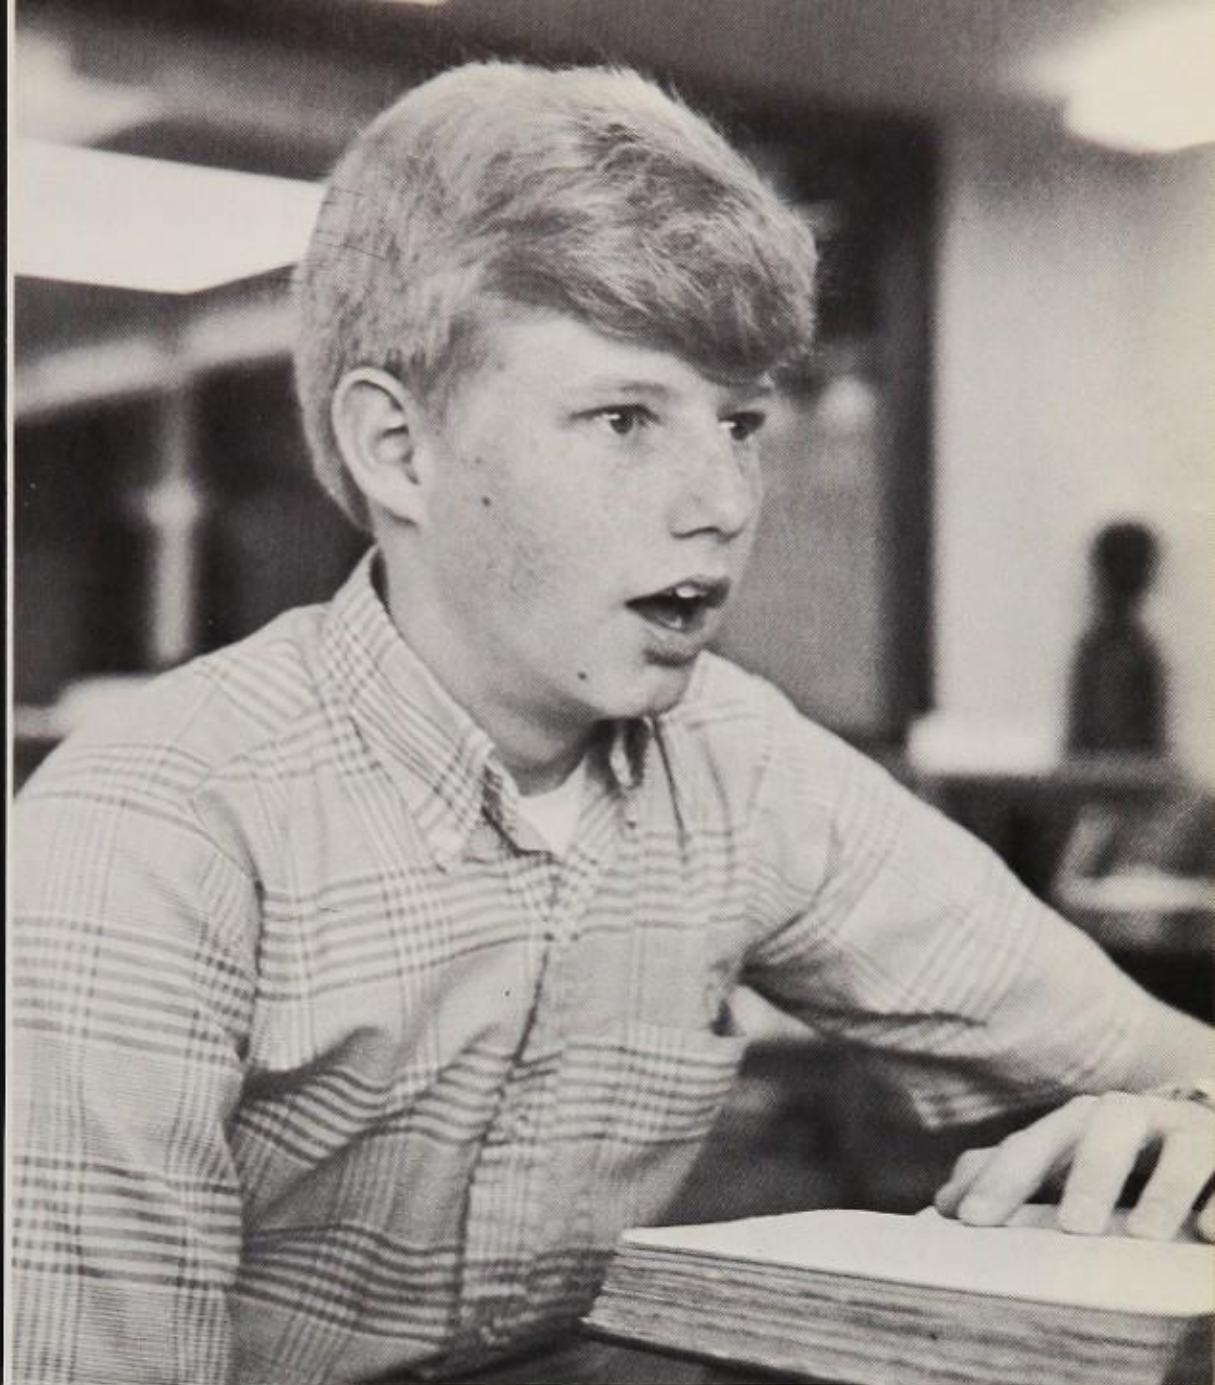

The Wabash High School tennis team, coached by Mr. Don Spencer, placed fifth in the Central Indiana Conference. Of the seven conference teams, Elwood, Alexandria, Hartford City, Huntington, Muncie Burris, Peru, and Tipton, the Apaches won over Alexandria and Tipton. The Southwood team and the Apache netters met three times during the season. Southwood won two of the three meets. The last match of the year was played against Culver in which they were the victors.

Returning lettermen Kim Clark, Dennis Deal, and Mark Hoipkemier were the only team members who had formerly participated in competitive action.

MR. SLAVENS is busy looking over computer programming sheets for next year.

Mr. Robert Slavens came to Wabash after six years as a teacher and assistant principal at North Vernon and three years as principal at Syracuse. He was born in Terre Haute, Indiana. He obtained his bachelor's and master's degrees from Indiana State University where he is now working on a six-year program that is an intermediate step between a master's and doctorate's degree.

Mr. Slavens collects coins as a hobby and in his spare time enjoys hunting, fishing, and swimming. When asked what his favorite meal is, he replied, "Beans and cornbread."

The new principal said of the past year: "I've enjoyed this first year at Wabash. There have been some rough times, but we have been able to weather them. We have an excellent student body and teaching staff. With everyone working together we can develop an even better program than we now have."

SOMETIMES SILENCE AND SOLITUDE are necessary. Mr. Slavens enjoys a quiet game of chess.

"YOU EXPECT me to believe that?" Mr. Miller gets all kinds of excuses.

DR. WALTER KENT coordinates the activities of the city schools and their principals.

Able Administrators Direct WHS

When asked what he thought about his first year at Wabash High School, Mr. Roy Miller replied, "It was great!" WHS's assistant principal said that he just likes students and that they are enjoyable to be associated with. Mr. Miller came to Wabash from Sidney, Indiana, where he was principal.

Dr. Kent, superintendent, and the School Board made all of the important decisions concerning the school system. They spent long hours co-ordinating the activities and schedules of the hundreds of students being directed through school. Their aim was the welfare of each student.

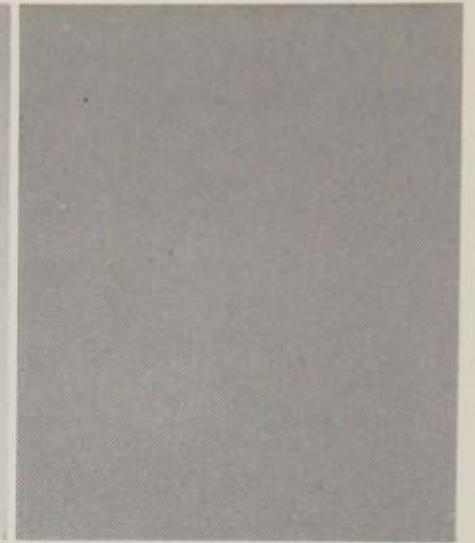

WABASH CITY SCHOOL BOARD members are Howard Downs, Philip Magner, Jr., Dr. Walter Kent, Robert House, Paul Deal, and Richard Swart.

A student works from 8:00 a.m. until 3:05 p.m., but a teacher's work is never done. No matter how many times a lesson is taught or a question is answered, there will always be new classes to teach and new questions to answer. However, WHS teachers enjoy every minute of their work and would not trade it for the world.

Serving WHS

Students assisting the school secretaries and counselors spent their time answering the telephone, collecting attendance, carrying announcements, and running errands. Although the office help was kept busy, they somehow managed to get their homework finished, too.

Mrs. Harvey kept the library in order with the help of student aides. The girls spent their study hall hours checking books, collecting fines, and helping students locate books.

MRS. DECKARD'S AIDES: Ginny Elliott, Chris Leonhard, Sharon Boggs, Laurie Grier, Bev Fouts, and Suzie Miller.

SOME PEOPLE SAY that too many cooks spoil the soup, but these cooks do a good job.

"I DON'T SUPPOSE they will like this week's menus either." Being manager of the cafeteria is a thankless job, but Mr. Harvey tries each week to satisfy the appetites of the student body.

WHS Helpers

Five days a week Mr. Harvey, the cooks, and the student helpers must plan and prepare meals for the hungry group from the high school.

The custodians deserve credit for working hard. After cleaning up the debris, they must face the same problem the next day.

A great deal of responsibility rests with the bus drivers as they transport the students to and from their homes everyday.

The students and faculty would like to thank these people for their dedicated service throughout the year.

"ALL ABOARD." Everyday the bus drivers deliver WHS students to school safely.

SO THAT'S HOW the wastebaskets get emptied. The night janitors try to keep the school clean.

Seniors Have Final Fling at Convo

"MRS. OLIVER, on behalf of the Class of '69, I want you to start your own news program." Dennis Erdahl presents her with a $1000 gift certificate.

AND THE AWARD for the Most Muscular Arms goes to Bev Sample. The gift—barbells!

Two all-time favorite celebrities, Dean Martin and Glenn Campbell, appeared at the Senior Convo. Bob Schloot, doing a fine impersonation of Martin, and Dennis Erdahl, portraying Campbell, acted as master of ceremonies.

Before they came on the Biology II boys sang "Rocky Raccoon" and the Beaver Patrol girls performed. Bob and Dennis then handed out such awards as the Biggest cheese eater, mini-award, newlywed award, longest hair award, and the biggest snake award.

At the end of the convo the seniors picked up their caps and gowns.

"BUSY, BUSY BEAVERS, busy every day . . ." The Beaver Patrol girls let their hearts shine out so bright as they do the Beaver Hop!

69 IS FINE

1969 Graduates:

'69 GRADUATES LISTEN INTENTLY to the baccalaureate ceremonies.

MR. MILLER gives some strict advice to Doug Simons before baccalaureate.

"Amid Shaking Foundations" was the sermon for the June 1, 1969 baccalaureate service given by the Reverend Dean Finley.

As in previous years, both baccalaureate and commencement were held in the Honeywell Center. The ninety-eighth graduating class chose as its theme "The Establishment." Speeches were given by Eva Lively, Chris Hosler, Ted Grossnickle, and Gary Pinkerton. Dr. Kent presented awards of academic excellence to Stan Smith, valedictorian, and Dennis Deal, salutatorian. Following Mr. Slavens' presentation of the class of '69 and the distribution of diplomas, Phil Kafoure led the seniors in turning their tassels. Then, amid broad smiles, tears, and general disbelief, the class marched out of the auditorium.

Graduation was a solemn occasion. The young adults realized that they would be responsible for the world they are to inhabit in the days and years ahead. But with an open mind they shall meet all of their obstacles. As Alexis De-Toqueville once wrote about Americans: "No natural boundary seems to be set to the efforts of man; and in his eyes what is not yet done is only what he has not attempted to do."

Tomorrow's Establishment

EVA LIVELY gives her speech, "What is the Establishment" at Commencement.

COME ON DEBBIE, hold your chin up! Pam Bakehorn helps Debbie Coburn straighten her collar.

JOE EVANS, MIKE O'CONNELL, AND JEFF PETTIT don't seem a bit sad about graduation.

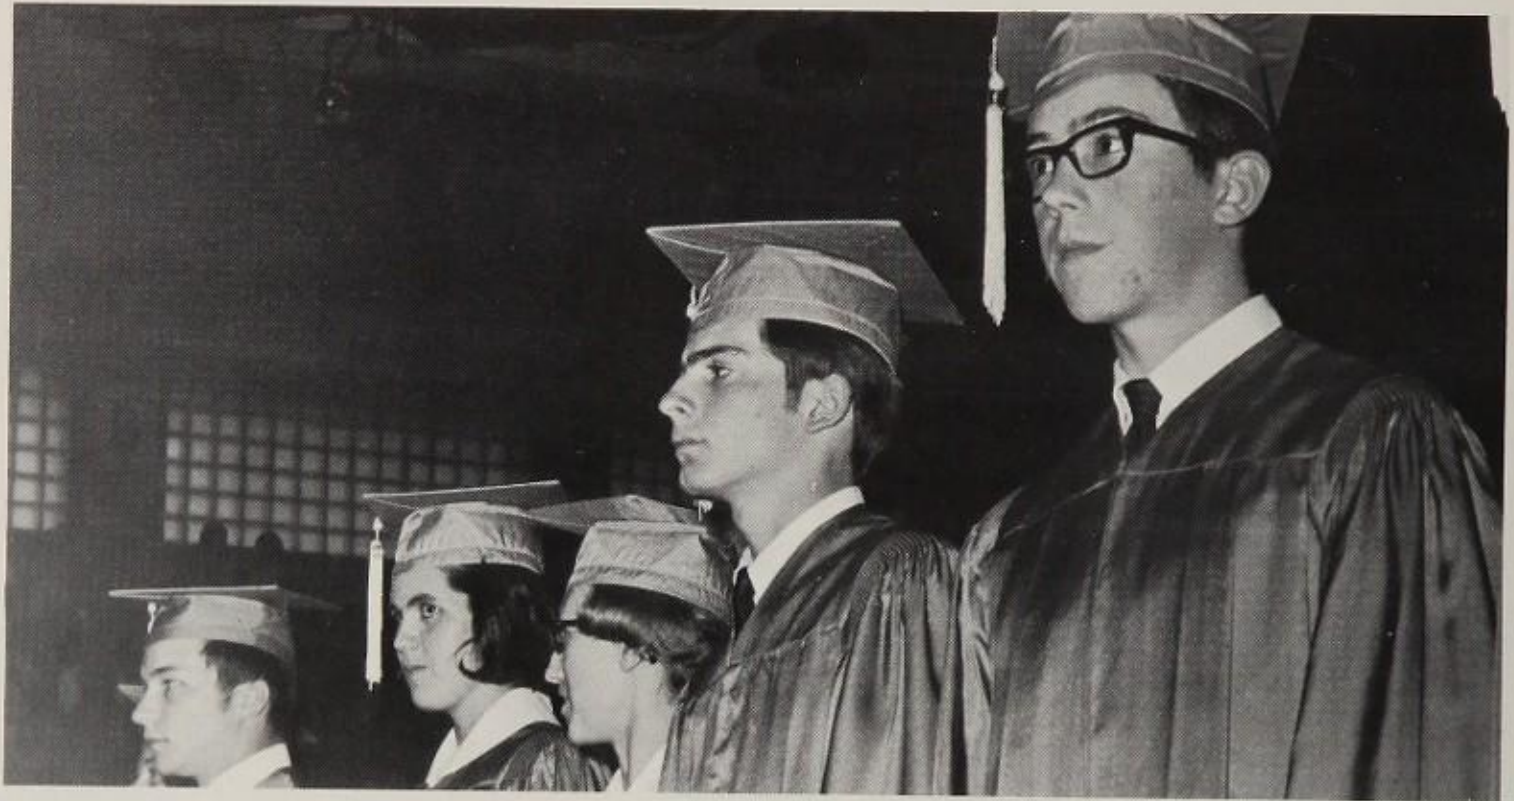

"SEE, graduation isn't that bad," Mrs. Deckard tells Jim Coburn and Chris Frederick.

... And After Graduation

Comes the Celebration

THE BARE FACTS provided music for dancing at the senior party.

GREGG AND JON sample some of the refreshments at the all-night party.

MICHAEL VANLANDINGHAM

September 1951
October 1968

Death did beckon
    with an outstretched hand,
And whispered softly
    of an "unknown land."
Then he had to leave—
    at least for a while;
But do not grieve
    or shed wild tears.
Just start out bravely
    with a gallant smile;
And for his sake
    and in his name,
Live on and do
    all things the same.

THE PURPOSE OF THE FELLOWSHIP OF CHRISTIAN ATHLETES IS: to confront athletes and coaches and through them, the youth of the nation. With the challenge and adventure of following Christ, and serving him through the fellowship of the church, and in their vocations.

- * Courage is the virtue that makes other virtues possible. (Churchill)
- * Courage is doing what you're afraid to do. There can be no courage unless you're scared.
(Eddie Rickenbacker)
- * The stories of past courage cannot supply courage itself. For this each man must look into his own soul. (John F. Kennedy)
- * Courage is fear that has said its prayers. (Anonymous)

Ode to a Graduate

Speeches are over, the best wishes are passed.
Gone are the fun days, to memories they have lapsed.

Do you have what it takes to meet what's ahead?
Will it be a challenge to win or a future to dread?

Will you grieve this good earth in fire and scars or will you blaze new trails off to the stars?

It's your turn, you know, to set sights and embark
Now it is you who must go out and make your mark.

What you seek, ponder well, for it's your future you see Born yet come more children and yours they will be.

But what will they have, or what all will they lose
Only you now can say, for it is you who must choose.

"I shall pass through this world but once. If, therefore, there be any kindness I can show, or any good thing I can do, let me do it now; let me not defer it or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

DeGrellet

With these words we end our '69 Sycamore. Because we can never pass this way again, we have tried to capture for you the highlights of our year at WHS; the events that will never be forgotten. We could think of no better way to end our book than with the symbol of peace worn by so many young people today. It stands for us and everything we believe in.

The outer circle is the world, in which we will surely leave our mark. The vertical line symbolizes the people, and from the people stem love and peace, which are represented by the angular lines.

Yes, this small symbol of love and peace holds much meaning, but individually we will have to discover where we find these things.

INTERNATIONAL

1. Martha Vasconcellos, representing Brazil, was crowned Miss Universe 1968 at the Miss Universe Beauty Pageant in Miami Beach, Florida.
2. Pope Paul VI shakes hands with Dr. Christiaan Barnard during a private audience at the Vatican. The pontiff congratulated the surgeon on his work in heart transplant operations.
3. Jacqueline Onassis and her husband, Greek shipping magnate Aristotle Onassis, leave chapel on the Greek Island of Scorpios after their marriage October 20th.
4. In May the Paris Peace Talks began in an effort to stop the Vietnam conflict. French Presidency Protocol Chief Bernard Durand indicates seats for the North Vietnamese representatives and for the U.S. representatives, headed by Averell Harriman, second from right.
5. A defiant Czech youth waves a national flag under the gun barrel of a Soviet tank in Prague. This Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia occurred in August.
6. U.S. Marines man the high ground watching for snipers as giant Chinook helicopters descend onto a landing zone about 27 miles southwest of Da Nang, South Vietnam.

7. Mexican girl athlete Enriqueta Basilio races up the stairs of Olympic stadium in Mexico City with the Olympic flame to climax the opening ceremony.

8. The U.S. was not the only nation to feel the effects of rebellious youth. Here a crowd of students jam the Via Del Tritone in Rome demanding educational reforms.

9. Hardly a wall was left standing after this Iranian town of 14,363 people was struck by an earthquake on August 28th. The death toll throughout Eastern Iran was estimated at more than 11,000.

10. A Parisian reads a newspaper headlining the monetary crisis in France. French President Charles de Gaulle later announced there would be no devaluation of the franc.

11. Commander Lloyd M. Bucher, skipper of the captured U.S. intelligence ship, Pueblo, is shown as depicted in news film from North Korea. Officers and crew were released in December.

12. Rescue workers and residents sift through the ruins of Arab dwellings in Ibbid Eara, Jordan, after what Arab authorities described as an Israeli bombing attack. Israeli authorities charged that Jordanian gunners had fired on the ship.
